Why They Are Favored by Farmers Everywhere

For nearly twenty-five years the New Deere Sulky and Gang Plows have been the most widely used of their respective types.

Here is the general reason: Farmers everywhere have continued to find that these plows give the best and longest seed bed-making service.

And here are some specific reasons:

- 1—Their genuine John Deere bottoms, made of the best material, tempered perfectly, and shaped exactly right, cut, turn, scour and pulverize to the best advantage. And they outwear any other bottoms.
- 2—Their bottoms reach full depth immediately and stay in the ground at uniform depth while plowing—they make uniformly deep, rooney seed beds.

The unmatched record of these plows and the reasons why they have maintained this record are things you can bank on.

Come in and investigate our New Deere Sulky and Gang Plows.

THE TRADE MARK OF QUALITY

Canada; A Nation In A League of Nations

Participation in the Great War carried Canada into world politics. Prior to the war many Canadians had got into the habit of referring to Canada as a nation, but when it came down to a definition of our legal and international status it had to be confessed that we were still a colony, a dependency of Great Britain. The Great War has finally changed Canada's position in the world. Great Britain no longer looks upon Canada, Australia and other overseas dominions as colonies or mere dependencies, but as sister nations with Britain herself, the whole united in one partnership of equality under one Crown and forming the British Empire.

Recognition of Canada's changed status is not confined to the Empire itself; it is now officially and legally recognized in an international sense by the admission of Canada as a nation in a world League of Nations, a League wherein Canada has equal standing and equal responsibilities with all the sovereign nations of the world. Canada's right to such a status may be questioned, and recognition delayed, by the United States Senate, but it is accepted and approved by all other nations, and the United States will either have to accept it or remain outside the League of Nations.

Because of this change in the international status of the Canadian Dominion, and the new responsibilities imposed upon Canada, it is not only right but necessary that our people should take an interest in, study, and endeavor to understand international questions, world politics, international finance, and all the many questions which have a vital influence upon the currents of the world's public opinion. No longer can Canadians be content to allow the British foreign office and the British Parliament to settle all international problems for us; we must now study, understand, and take an active part in the settlement of all such problems ourselves.

Undoubtedly one beneficial effect of this larger interest and vision in world affairs will be to broaden the view of our people in the consideration of domestic questions. As the passes we are likely to become less petty and parochial in our home politics as we learn the necessity of compromise, and a policy of give and take, in the settlement of the many knotty international problems created by geographical barriers, and racial and creed divisions. Administering a world-wide empire, the people of the British Isles long ago learned this lesson of tolerance, and appreciation of the other fellow's viewpoint, and, having learned it, it became Britain's greatest asset in successful colonial administration and world diplomacy. Canadians will learn the necessity of tolerance in dealing with great international problems, and by the application of a greater tolerance at home many of the prejudices which now retard Canadian development will fade away.

In the past Canadians have been too self-centred. Lacking that close intercourse with other nations and peoples, which our new international status will force upon us, we have failed to appreciate many of the fine qualities of races whom we have brushed aside as "foreigners"; we have failed to learn from them many things which would have added richness and variety and strength to the life of Canada; we have been too intent upon the practical problems of Canada and the reaching of solutions by ourselves without regard to the history of other nations, and have thus frequently made mistakes which could easily and ought to have been avoided by a consideration of the solution of similar problems elsewhere.

The introduction of the larger issues of world politics into the political discussions and life in Canada will not serve to weaken our interest in, or divert our attention from, domestic problems and issues; on the contrary, it should serve to strengthen the determination of our people to approach and settle them in a bigger way than ever before in order that Canada may become more and more united and better fitted to perform its part with honor and credit to itself as a nation in the League of Nations.

Formerly a debtor country to Great Britain, United States and other countries, Canada today has become a creditor nation. Belgium, Rumania, France and other countries are now in Canada's debt. We have a direct interest in their welfare and stability. Canada has established a great mercantile marine, with ships going to ports in all parts of the world, and within a year or two the number of ships flying the Canadian flag will be two or three times greater than today. Canada's international trade and commerce is expanding by leaps and bounds. A new national consciousness is at work which is the outgrowth of the war and our new national status and dignity.

If this new consciousness is developed, and the people of Canada lay aside their old sectarian quarrels and bitterness, and set themselves energetically to the task of developing their own natural resources, and increasing production for world consumption, they will quickly find their Dominion forging ahead to that place which destiny intended Canada to occupy, and the hope of which was the inspiration of the fathers of Confederation, and the dream of our earlier pioneers.

The airplane has now taken its place in the day's work. Settlers' Wives Learn How Creameries Are Run

Short Course Given at Moose Jaw Creates Unusual Interest

Unusual interest is being taken in the short course now being given at Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan, for the wives of the soldier settlers from the outlying districts. On March 1st, 68 of them arrived in this city to participate in the course. They were given a warm welcome by the ladies of the city.

Some of the subjects dealt with in the course are:

1. Butter-making, by P. E. Reed, Dairy Commissioner for Saskatchewan.
2. Practical work on farm butter-making, by W. Harkness, S. S. B. Supervisor for Swift Current.
3. Demonstration of creamery plant in operation, showing sterilization, pasteurisation and milk testing, by J. A. Caulder, manager Moose Jaw Creamery, assisted by Mr. Logan and Mr. Harkness.

Made Her Feel Like A Different Person

WHY MRS. MILES WOOD RECOMMENDS DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

She had kidney troubles and her feet swelled, but she states she found the relief she looked for in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"Dodd's Kidney Pills made me feel like a new person." That is the statement of Mrs. M. M. Wood, a well-known and highly respected resident of this place.

"I was troubled with my kidneys," Mrs. Wood continues, "and my feet swelled. I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills with the result that the swelling is nearly all gone and I feel better in every way."

"To any person who is bothered with kidney trouble or with their feet and legs swelling I would say 'use Dodd's Kidney Pills.'"

The women of Canada have come to look on Dodd's Kidney Pills as a standard remedy for their kidney ills. They act directly on the kidneys. They are purely and simply a kidney remedy. By putting the kidneys in good condition to strain all the impurities all the seeds of disease, out of the blood they carry good health to every part of the body. Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not help all kidney ills.

Price of Seed Wheat

Reduction Made in Interest of Farmers Who Suffered Crop Failure

The Canadian Wheat Board has issued an order reducing the price of wheat, sold locally from country elevators in the Prairie Provinces, for use as seed, to $2.45 per bushel, Fort William basis, this price to be effective from midnight, February 21, until further notice. Prior to this order the price of seed wheat was the price to millers ($2.80), plus one cent, with an increase of one cent every 15 days from December 31, 1919. This reduction was made in response to resolutions passed at the annual conventions of the United Farmers of Alberta and the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association, asking, in the interest of farmers who have suffered crop failure, that the price of seed be reduced to $2.40, Fort William basis.

Building Activity at Calgary

Many Handsome Business and Public Buildings to be Erected

The program of construction of new business and public buildings which will be commenced at Calgary this year already totals well over $2,000,000. They include a normal school and a school of technology and the new post office, contracts for which are being awarded, and the $300,000 Allen theatre, the Herald addition costing $100,000, and a $50,000 addition to the Yale Hotel.

The new Normal School and Institute of Technology will be situated north of the Bow river, in the north west part of the city, and will cost approximately one million dollars. Plans of the structure show that it will be one of the most imposing educational institutions in Western Canada. The building has been designed by R. P. Blakey, provincial architect, and is in the Collegiate Gothic style, laid out in the shape of a capital "I." The new structure will face the city on a site of 110 acres.

Penitentiary Farm's Success

Intensive Farming Has Been Very Profitable

Included in the report of the governor of the Edmonton, Alberta, penitentiary is an interesting paragraph dealing with the farm operations carried on at the penitentiary, as well as its mining operations. Some 70 acres were under cultivation during the past year, and were farmed with gratifying results. From this small acreage, after buying a tractor and stubble plow at a cost of $1,374, we show a net profit of $4,091.17. From 954 acres of wheat we threshed 45 bushels to the acre, and from 11 acres of potatoes we sold 3,500 bushels. Our oats yielded 85 bushels to the acre, and the amount of small vegetables was exceptionally good. Our intensive farming has been very profitable.

Animals found on the eastern side of Sumatra differ entirely from those found on the western side.

Lift off Corns!

Doesn't hurt a bit and Freezone costs only a few cents.

With your fingers!—You can lift off any hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the hard skin calluses from bottom of feet.

A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs little at any drug store; apply a few drops upon the corn or callus. Instantly it stops hurting, then shortly you find that bothersome corn or callus right off, root and all, without one bit of pain or soreness. Truly! No humbug!

Spring Ploughing in British Columbia

Exceptionally favorable weather has been experienced for farming operations throughout February, says a report from Hazelmead, British Columbia, and the result is to be seen in the many newly ploughed stretches of land, much of it virgin soil newly cleared. There is every indication that seeding will be accomplished much earlier all round than was possible last year in this neighborhood.

Labor Bureau Places 33,399 Persons

The cost of operation was $39,879 or $2 per applicant and $1.19 per placement. The cost to the province was $60,76, the remainder being borne by the Dominion.

Creamery Butter Production

Dairying is Advancing Rapidly in Saskatchewan

F. H. Auld, Deputy Minister of Agriculture for Saskatchewan, is authority for the statement that creamery butter production in Saskatchewan has increased during the past year from 30 to 35 per cent, as compared with the year 1918. The increase in 1918 over the year 1917 amounted to 50 per cent.

Saskatchewan is fast coming to the front as a dairy producer, but even more rapid development is looked for in the future. Quality counts, and everything that can be done in the way of emphasizing the need for a higher quality of butter is considered a step in the right direction.

Never mind! Just take Cascarets if Bilious, Constipated

Everyone must occasionally give to the bowels some regular help or else suffer from constipation, bilious attacks, stomach disorders and sick headaches. But do not whip the bowels into activity with harsh cathartics.

THE COW PUNCHER

Arrangement.

It was dusk when he had burnt out his violence, and chastened and spent, he turned the machine to hum gently back to the forgotten city. Irene, by some fine telepathy, had followed vaguely the course of his emotions; she followed them in delicious excitement and fear and hope. She sensed in some subtle feminine way the impulse that had sent him roaring into the distances; she watched his powerful hand on the wheel, his clear, steady eye; the minute accuracy with which he controlled his flying motor; and she prayed—and did not know what or why she prayed. But a cool, steady eye; the minute accuracy with which he controlled his flying motor; and she prayed—and did not know what or why she prayed. But a cool, steady eye; the minute accuracy with which he controlled his flying motor; and she prayed—and did not know what or why she prayed.

"Dave," she said at length, "I want to tell you that I think you—that is, that I—oh, I've been very selfish and proud—"

Her fingers had followed his arm to the shoulder, and she had held it to a standstill. "I have fought as long as I can, Dave," she raised her eyes full to his, and felt them glowing upon her in the dusk. "I have fought as long as I can," she said, "and I—I always wanted to—lose, you know; and now—I surrender."

Elden lost no time in facing the unpleasant task of a close view with Mrs. Hardy. It was even less pleasant than he expected.

"Irene is of age," said Mrs. Hardy, bluntly. "If she will suit you, you must tell her plainly that I will do all I can to dissuade her. Ungrateful child!" she exclaimed, in an outburst of temper, "after all these years to throw herself away in an infatuation for a cow puncher."

The thorn of Mrs. Hardy's distress revealed as it was in those last contemptuous words, struck Dave as so ridiculous that he laughed outright. It was the second occasion upon which his sense of humor had suffered an inopportune reaction in her presence.

"Yes, laugh at me," she said, bitterly. "Laugh at her mother, an old woman now, alone in the world—the mother that risked her life for the child you are taking with a laugh—"

"I beg your pardon," said Dave. "I was not laughing at you, but at the very great aversion in which you hold anyone who has at one time followed the profession of a cowboy. As one who was born practical with a larrikin in his hand I claim the liberty of being amused at that aversion."

Irene, who had been sitting in the room, looking on with a mixture of interest and sympathy, now spoke up. "I have known many of the cow punching trade, and I know that the boys who are generally white—a great deal whiter than their critics—and with sounder respect for the girl than I have found in circles that consider themselves superior. So I will ask you to apologize for the class from which I come. I have only a laugh for your answer. But when you say I have taken your child thoughtlessly, there you do me an injustice. And when you speak of being left alone in the world, you are quite wrong."

the world you do both Irene and me an injustice. And when you call yourself an old woman you do us all an injustice."

"You may spare your compliments," said Mrs. Hardy, tartly. "I have no use for them. And for your defence of cow punchers, I prefer gentlemen. Why Irene should wish to throw herself away when there are men like Mr. Hardy—"

"Conward!" interrupted Dave. "He has the manners of a gentleman," she said, in a tone intended to be crushing.

"And the morals of a coyote," Dave returned, hotly.

"O-o-o-o-o," Mrs. Hardy, in a low, shocked cry. That Elden should speak of Conward with such disdain seemed to her little less than sacrilege. Then, gathering herself together with some dignity, "If you cannot speak respectfully of Mr. Conward, you will please to leave the house. I shall not forbid you to see Irene; I know that would be useless. But please do not trouble me with your presence."

When Dave had gone, Mrs. Hardy, very angry with him, and almost equally angry with herself owing to a vague conviction that she had had it anything the worse of the interview, hurried to the telephone. She rang up Conward's number.

"Oh, Mr. Conward," she said, "You know who is speaking? Yes. You must come up tonight. I do want to consult with you. Conward had been a soothing influence in my life. By that—I mean, it's all very terrible. I can't tell you more than that."

Conward called early in the evening. Irene met him at the door. He greeted her even more cordially than usual, dropped into that soft, contented note which he had found so potent in capturing such affections as his heart, in a somewhat varied experience, had desired. But there was no time for conversation. Mrs. Hardy had heard the bell, and bustled into the room. She had not yet recovered from her agitation, and made no effort to conceal it.

"Come into my sitting-room, Mr. Conward. I am so glad you have come. Really, I am so upset. It is such a comfort to have someone you can depend on—someone whose advice one can seek, on occasions like this—I never thought—"

Mrs. Hardy had been fingering her handkerchief, which she now pressed to her eyes. Conward laid a soothing hand on her shoulder. "There, there," he said. "You must control yourself. Tell me, will you, what you, and perhaps I can help."

"Oh, I'm sure you can," she returned. "It's all over Irene and that—"

"But I don't want to go through that. To think it would have come to this! Mr. Conward, you are not a mother, so you can't understand. Ungrateful child! But I blame him, and the Doctor. I never wanted him to come west. It was that fool trip, in that—"

Conward smiled to himself over her unaccustomed violence. Mrs. Hardy must be deeply moved when she forced him to tell him of her distress. He surmised the occasion of her distress, and he was not far from being engaged.

He had expected it for some time, and the information was not altogether distasteful to him. He had come somewhat to the realization of Irene's attractiveness, but he had no deep attachment for her. He was more concerned for her safety, and he was not far from being engaged.

directly personal ambitions. Her ambition was for Irene. From her point of view it seemed to Mrs. Hardy that almost anything would be better than that Irene should marry a man who had sprung from the low estate, which Elden not only confessed, but boasted. She had hoped that by bringing Conward into the house, by bringing Irene under the influence of a close family acquaintanceship with him, that that young lady might be led to see the folly of the road she was choosing. But now her clever purpose had come to naught, and in her vexation she did not hesitate to humble herself before Conward by confessing, in words that he could not misunderstand, that she had hoped that he would be the successful suitor for Irene. And Conward's heart leapt at the confession. He was sufficiently well versed in the affairs of life to appreciate the advantage of an alliance with Mrs. Hardy in the short, sharp battle that lay before him.

Sun Life Shows Large Gains

49th Annual Report Is Issued, Showing Tremendous Expansion

Several new and interesting records in the insurance business were made by the Sun Life Assurance Co. of Canada during 1919. The 49th annual report of the company has just been published and shows that the new business actually issued and paid for during the past year was $86,548,850, being an increase of $34,957,457, or 67.7 per cent., over 1918. The tremendous business of the Sun Life will be realized when it is stated that applications for new assurances retained during 1919 exceeded one hundred million dollars. The figure creates a distinct record in the insurance business of the Dominion, as no Canadian company has ever approached this total.

The business in force amounted to $416,358,462, showing an increase of $75,548,805. The assets of the company were increased by $8,091,089, and now amount to $105,711,468, while the report shows a net surplus of $8,037,440 over and above all liabilities and capital stock, which indicates the importance attached by the company to safety and protection. The company paid out to policyholders and their beneficiaries $12,364,000, bringing the total amount paid out in this connection since organization to $91,227,532. Another record was made in regard to income with a total of $25,704,201, or an increase of $4,053,101 over the previous year.

Owing to the remarkable development in the business of Canada's greatest life assurance corporation, the directors feel that the business in the Dominion is due to enormously expand during the present year.

Wanted it Unlearned

Over the telephone a worried voice addressed the proprietor of a small hardware store. The speaker began: "I come in your place today and bought one of them dollar alarm clocks, and you set it for me to go off at 5 o'clock in the mornin'. D'y'e remember?"

"Yes," said the hardware man, "I remember."

"Well," went on the other, "I've just found out that I don't have to get up at 5 o'clock in the mornin'."

"Glad to hear it," said the hardware man. "But what do you want me to do about it?"

"I want you," said the customer, "to tell me how to unlearn this clock."

Prospecting For Oil

Kerobert district is experiencing an oil boom says the Regina Leader. Many people have filed claims as oil prospects during the past few days on land in that district. In two hours 20,000 acres had been leased.

It would appear that the announcement of an increase in rental prices has something to do with the present rush, also the oil spirit is in the wind. The territory northwest and west of Kerobert has been rounded for oil before with the result that there is a belief that with deep drilling oil will be produced in that locality.

The bravery of some men is like that of bulldogs; they have the sense enough to be afraid of anything.

Britain Building Locomotives

One Large Firm Engaged on Order for Foreign Government

There has been a marked revival in locomotive building in Great Britain since the conclusion of the war. One large engineering firm which recently entered this field is engaged on an order for many thousands of locomotives for a foreign government.

In the production of these locomotives all the highest refinements in economical mass production have been secured. The various shops are arranged so that the materials and parts flow uninterruptedly through to the finished locomotive, and each step in the process of manufacture and assembly is subjected to close continuous observation in order to prevent the slackening of one part in the process of evolution delaying the subsequent steps.

Government Clyde Stallion

Parties wishing to breed mares to the Clydesdale stallion purchased by the Alberta Department of Agriculture, "Craigie Masterpiece", 18297, during the season of 1920, will make application to S. G. Carlyle, Live Stock Commissioner, Department of Agriculture, Edmonton, giving name and registration number of mares. A fee of $25 will be payable at time of service, and a further fee to be fixed by the Clydesdale Committee and the Live Stock Commissioner, will be payable when mare proves to be in foal.

The location of the horse in the province will also be decided by this committee, and arrangements will be made that the service fees in every case will cover the freight, so as to equalize cost to parties residing in different parts of the province. Further particulars will be published shortly, but parties desiring to breed mares should make application at once. The stallion will likely be ready to begin the season about May 1st. The Committee and Live Stock Commissioner reserve the right to revise the list of applications and make such rules and regulations as may be deemed necessary regarding the services of this stallion.

OUR LITTLE ADS DO BIG WORK

FABYAN

We are glad to know that Norman King and all his household who were down with the flu are up and around again.

Sergt. "Bud" Cotton, Buffalo Park fence rider, had a narrow escape from death the other day. A buffalo bull almost killed his horse mauling it frightfully, but "Bud" was unhurt. Bud is a hero of the great war having been gassed and losing the sight of one eye in France.

A new house and barn are about to be erected at the "Rockyford" Park gate. Mr. Sander will likely be the builder.

Lewisville S.D. has been enlarged and it is proposed to move the school down the Battle River bridge.

We have a phone in Walter Adman's store and Fabyan is in touch with all creation.

Henry Alm and J. J. Armstrong had a carload of feed shipped in from Duhamel lately. Stock around here are wintering well.

George and Joe Rubenok have had a winter's work, and are still at it, baling hay for their father at Lake Manitou, Sask. Miss Lizzie has been keeping house for them.

This community was sorry to hear of the death of Mr. and Mrs. John Rubenok's only child, from pneumonia.

Milton Ross is expected home from California the first of April.

Steve Crozier is getting around as well as can be expected after having his leg amputated at Rochester, Minn.

Unlimited gas has been struck about three miles from Fabyan station. Watch Fabyan grow!
